MWR OFFERS GREAT MANY PROGRAMS. I ESPECIALLY LIKE THE CYS FACILITIES & THE YOUTH PROGRAMS. IT WOULD BE NICE TO ENHANCE THESE PROGRAMS, BECAUSE SO MANY PEOPLE HAVE CHILDREN OF DIFFERENT AGES. I USED TO VOLUNTEER MANY HOURS @ THE CYS ACTIVITIES, BUT THE PROGRAM SEEMS TO HAVE DWINDLED DOWN. I WOULD LIKE TO SEE MORE OPPORTUNITIES FOR THE PARENTS TO VOLUNTEER & RECEIVE CHILD CARE CREDIT. NEED TO START TO PARENT ADVISORY GROUP BACK UP. I WISH MORE ACTIVITIES WOULD CENTER AROUND THE BOWLING ALLEY & MOVIE THEATER. I REALLY APPRECIATE ALL THE FUNCTIONS THAT DCA HAS @ IRONHORSE PARK, SPECIAL EVENTS CENTER, ETC. ESPECIALLY THE FAMILY FUNCTIONS. KEEP UP THE EXCELLENT WORK! YOU ARE DOING A GREAT JOB.

incompetent personnel

Overall Comment

MWR is a great organization. They cannot prevent the dissapointment with the Army and their leaders in general. The Army really does not care about the family of their soldiers. Whatever they try to represent to the outside with all the programs, they have too many incompetent leaders (NCOs and Commissioned officers). I experience this in my job and as a military spouse on a daily basis.

Having now been retired for 15yrs, it was difficult responding "non-use" to those many activities offered by the (MWR)that I and my family utilized during my active duty assignments in CONUS and OVERSEAS. Living off-post we tend to use the community recreation and worship opportunities. We actually perceive the MWR to be more supportive of the active duty personnel and their families than for us in the retired community. Truly, I would feel embarrassed using (taking time and money from) those active duty and family members of combat assigned personnel who so desperately need these activities and facilities. Though I was chosen to receive this survey and answered it honestly, I am trusting that my responses in no way reflect on the need for the services and facilities those on active duty with their families, especially those living on-post. My family an I each used most of these opportunities during my 21 years of active duty and we enjoyed them immensely! Keep up the good work!

Not enough information on programs

Overall Comment

If I knew all the things that are presented on Ft. Carson, it would be easier to use some of the facilities. My wife and daughter will be using the Forest rec. center more that we found out more. I would use the woodcraft area, now that I can see more use. The information isn't getting out to retired members. more should be put in the army paper, we pick it up when ever we go to the hospital.

I would like to learn how to play golf, but don't have alot of time. There are some other ones that I would like to use, just need more information and time.

Thank you

Overall Comment

In the past couple of years we have not use the MWR like we use to when our child was younger and we had more free time. But we still count on and appreciate the MWR programs when we need them. Presently we may use the military facility more if we were more aware of upcoming events and programs through advertising, maybe on the internet or email postings like the Springs community events site. Even though we have not used the MWR facilities much recently, we would hate to see them disappear for so many others in the military community need and use them.
Thank you so very much.

MWR is an absolute neccessity and asset that needs to be on top of the installation concern(s). Advertisment is always a plus to keep the authorized people interested and involved. Off-Post facilities are on top of their game because they have enticed and catered to their customer base effectively.

My husband and I are both Army retirees. We don't use on-post facilities very often because we can afford not to - i.e. we have a home theater, stained glass studio and work out gym in our home. HOWEVER when we were on active duty, MWR opened up many new horizons for us and played a key role in the quality of our lives. We learned to ski, golf, bowl, mountain climb, play tennis and raquetball, make stained glass, do photography, frame pictures, do ceramics and many other activities which enhance the quality of our lives to this day. We used fitness facilities on a daily basis both to maintain our physical fitness levels and for leisure. Our children participated in day care, after school care, sports, babysitting certification and other activities through MWR. We constantly used outdoor recreation services, on post picnic facilities and stayed in Army Lodging both while on vacation and when moving from installation to installation. We took countless tours overseas through MWR and ITT. We cannot imagine the quality of an Army family's life, given the low income and separation from traditional support networks, without MWR. MWR plays a much more important role in soldier retention than is probably measurable in a survey like this.

We are new to this post so I haven't had a chance to use the facilities. However, they make sure from the moment that we got here what is available. This post is wonderful. The people are all friendly, when we arrived and had to wait for household goods, ACS made sure we had what we needed to be comfortable. Our previous post had services but they weren't good. Ft. Carson and it's staff in general have been most excellant.

We are a bit far from Ft. Carson and use the facilities primarily at Peterson AFB.

lack of funding on the installation makes improvements in areas that are lacking almost impossible; use of facilities downtown is easier because their resources are so much greater also when you leave work - coming back to post is the last thing an individual really wants to do

Our main concern is the lack of healthy dining on post. No resturants offer really healthty choices for dining on post.

Recently the pools on post have begun charging an admission fee. I feel that it should be free to military members and their immediate family. The introduction of these fees has persuaded me not to use these facilities. I enjoy swimming for exercise but refuse to pay almost $80.00 per month to use the pools on post on a regular basis.

Colorado Springs happens to be my hometown and I live quite far from base...but near my family. So I do not participate very much in the activities here...it is just too far and there are many similar programs available to me closer to home. I have lived on other bases, however, and have used the MWR programs extensively. I think they are a huge boon to the military family and one of the few things that are a bonus about being in the military, especially when the soldiers are deployed. I know they offer a very wide range of activities, classes, crafts and such here and I think that is wonderful. The child care is supposed to be very good. I only regret that I do not use it more due to distance.

I didn't even know that MWR was available. This is all news to me. The only things and places that I know about on post are the places that I drive by on the way to 10th group. The only facility I use is Evan Hospital, and you can't even get an appiontment when you need one. I think you should be sending out surveys for the medical opinions. That is where your problem is. Getting appiontments and the attitudes of the personel that take the appiontments. I have had the hardest time with this. THe people tell me that their changing computer systems and things are crazy right now. That is not a good excuse. There should always be appionments available within a reasonable period of time.

FOCUS ON THE MEDICAL--(i.e.-appionments, friendliness on staff, and the pharmacy.)
thank you!!!!

MWR needs to communicate programs more effectively! There are programs out there that soldiers and families don't even know about! Unfortunately, other than mass mailings, I can't really suggest a solution. I think the information is being disseminated by units, but the soldiers aren't bringing it home. And it's the younger/newer spouses who aren't getting the info - they're the ones who don't think the Army's taking care of them. I wish I could provide an effective idea. But thanks for all you do!

Bowling Center could be updated. No smoking finally in effect. Game room could be enlarged CPO office is not very useful for finding a job in the Colorado Springs area - many job postings are out dated and they do not have current job referrals or know of employers actively seeking military family members for employment. They do offer a computer center area to complete job applications and resumes but this too can be done at home. Employees do not seem interested in helping. They do not have up to date knowledge on CPO rules with government job rating priorities such as reinstatement and family priority placement to assist an applicant in whether they are eligible to apply for jobs as posted.

Forrest Physical Fitness Center could use some help in providing a better indoor track and ventilation on the second floor in the summer months. My family uses this facility ever week and think that the facility is important to our health and wellness.

ITR tickets are not well advertised. We have missed out on many special offers since we live off post and rely on the Mountain Post newspaper for information. The ticket counter staff are not very professional and have had many changes in staff over the past two years. They never seem happy to work there nor eager to sell event tickets. The phone often goes unanswered even when customers are at the counter to witness this. The work area is very cluttered and the computers needed to order ticket vouchers such as Disney or Ski Passes are very slow NT systems. 2005 Ski season found ITR without contracted ski discount tickets when the families were ready to purchase and hit the slopes.

We appreciate the discounted rental ski equipment at outdoor rec and the staff is always very helpful and kind. The reservation process is outstanding.

Our active duty military family has used MWR and ACS services for over twenty years and have found many services to be very beneficial as our family has aged. We do not use many on-post services now since my kids are in college and high school. However they still turn to on-post for the gym facilities, bowling, hunting and church with Catholic Sunday Schol programs for family time.

It would be nice if I actually knew what kind of resources were available, and it was not dependant on my husband to tell me what is out there (I never hear of anything from him untill it's too late.) I would like to know what kind of resources are available to me regarding my civillian employer and if they have any kind of responsibility to have understanding when my husband is going down range and I have to make adjustments to my work hours so that I am able to pick my son up when he can not, as well as when his sergeants are going to hold him late preventing him from getting my son as well. I can not tell you how many times my job has been in jepordy because I had to leave early, call in, etc. because my husband had to put his job as the first priority, vs. his family responsibilities (which in my eyes should always be first, but apparently is not to my husband's superiors.)

I'm not very happy with MWR services outside of the West CDC. The CDC is a great facility, but mainly full of wonderful people who work very hard to make me feel comfortable about the care and wellbeing of my children. The bowling center is extremely lacking. Outside of parties for birthdays and end of season sports, we would not even use the facility because it never seems clean, is poorly maintained and has a great need for a complete overhaul. However, Turkey Creek Ranch is a wonderful facility. We love taking our family there. The CYS Sports staff is also lacking, primarily with Stephanie. Christina is wonderful. Stephanie is very harsh with parents and doesn't seem to care about the kids in the programs she runs. There were several errors made throughout the season and she did little to appease parents who paid for their children to participate even though she was the one responsible. I found the entire program completely unorganized, pulled my child out and prefer to spend my money in city programs.
